Fennel is a natural HRT

Fennel is nature's HRT for post-menopausal women. The herb is as effective as the drug for treating all the symptoms of the menopause - and without the side-effects, a new research study has discovered.

Fennel has been found to be as effective as HRT for treating all the symptoms of the menopause. A study in Tehran showed that it can counter hot flushes, sleeplessness, vaginal dryness and anxiety.

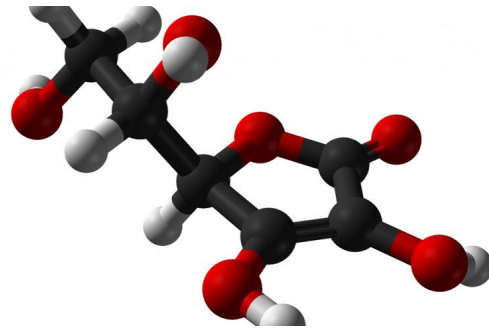

Fennel has known phyto-estrogenic properties and, although it has been used before the onset of the menopause to lessen symptoms, this is the first time it has been studied as a way of countering the worst effects of the menopause once it has started.

Vitamin C may encourage blood cancer stem cells to die

Vitamin C may "tell" faulty stem cells in the bone marrow to mature and die normally, instead of multiplying to cause blood cancers. This is the finding of a study led by researchers from Perlmutter Cancer Center at NYU Langone Health, and

The benefits of Vitamin C

Vitamin C is a water-soluble vitamin which cannot be manufactured by the human body. It is readily available from a good dietary intake of fruit and vegetables, but is easily destroyed by prolonged storage and cooking.

Vitamin C is necessary for adequate growth and repair within the immune system, bone and soft tissue matrix. It is also a potent antioxidant and free radical scavenger.

It enhances white blood cell function and activity, and increases interferon levels, antibody responses and secretion of thymic hormones. It is essential for the formation and maintenance of intercellular ground substance and collagen.

Vitamin C aids in the absorption of iron and the formation of red blood cells, and converts folic acid to active folinic acid. It maintains healthy histamine release and supports lymphocyte formation. Vitamin C is also required for the synthesis of carnitine and steroids.

Acerola is native to northern South America, Central America, Jamaica, Florida and Texas. The fruit of the Acerola Cherry tree, Malpighia puniceifolia L. is rich in Vitamin C and carotenoids, with the cherry-like fruits being one of the richest known natural sources of Vitamin C.

The fresh fruit can contain up to 4,000mg Vitamin C per gram of fresh weight. Oranges provide 500 to 4,000 parts per million Vitamin C , or ascorbic acid, while Acerola assays in the range of 16,000 to 172,000 parts per million.

Acerola has exceedingly high content of the bioflavonoids rutin and hesperidin, the antioxidant components of Vitamin C.

Acerola is also extremely rich in magnesium and potassium.

Special Note: A study published in 2002 reported that acerola showed similar allergic reactivity to latex. Those who may be allergic to latex may also be allergic to acerola in supplement form, or to its addition in various fruit juices.
